This Company offers to the public all the real advantages that can be, with safety, conceded by any Company. It is firmly established, having been in successful operation for the past twenty years. It has accumulated the large sum of $4,250,000.00.

And its Assets are rapidly increasing. Its Annual Income exceeds $1,300,000. Its investments are confined by statute to those most solid and reliable.

IT IS PURELY MUTUAL.

There are no Stockholders to whom heavy dividends or excessive interest is paid, but all the surplus belongs entirely to the assured. It pays Dividends at the beginning of the second year, and annually thereafter, on the contribution plan.

It has paid out to living members over $900,000 in Dividends. Its disbursements to the families and relatives of deceased members have reached a still larger sum, or over $1,750,000. Its average rate of mortality has been very favorable. It is economical in expenses. Its rates of premium are as low as they can be with safety to the insured. No extra rate charged on the lives of females. It issues most liberal Policies, with but little restriction on travel. All the most popular kinds of Policies are issued. All its Policies are made NON-FORFEITABLE by law of the state, and no other state offers equal advantages in this respect.

CORNER OF SPRING AND LYMAN STS., SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

AT the present time there are about five hundred of these famous Machines in operation; and after five years of trial, under all circumstances of use, in summer and winter, they have proved themselves to be durable, perfectly safe, thoroughly reliable, and economical. They are splendidly adapted and are used for lighting Manufacturing property of every description, Hotels, Blocks of Buildings, Churches, Dwelling Houses—single or in groups, and in fact everywhere where coal gas can be used, either for illuminating or heating purposes. They have been adopted by the U. S. Government at the National Armory in this city, and at the Arsenals at Rock Island, Ill., and at Benicia, Cal. The large number of Machines in operation for so long a time, without a single failure or an accident to mar its record, is a guaranty to the purchaser that they have got no experiment to try, but that they may enjoy the luxury of a safe, cheap, and brilliant gas-light, through the medium of the SPRINGFIELD GAS MACHINE; being as confident and well assured of its successful operation as they would be of a well-known steam engine or boiler. Circulars giving full and complete information, mailed on application.

Springfield in 1872.

GROWTH OF THE CITY—CHANGES AND IMPROVEMENTS—NEW ENTERPRISES—TRADE AND MANUFACTURES—EXCITEMENT IN REAL ESTATE—REMINISCENCES, ETC.

OLD RESIDENTS, and new-comers, as well, have a lively interest in facts pertaining to Springfield, as presented in this year's DIRECTORY. They begin to realize, as perhaps many have not heretofore, how rapidly the city is growing, even in its "suburbs." "Croakers," who oppose progress and fear improvements or an increase of taxes, are disappearing; even the frogs of Town Brook cease to peep, so rapidly is the meadow filled and laid out for new buildings. There may be a few, who still suppose the old numbers on houses—or no numbers at all—will answer for a place so full of people, with so many new-comers, who are puzzled by the singular alternation of figures on different house-doors—as on Water street, for instance; but even in such rare cases, residents open their eyes, when they find their lots are worth $400 a front foot, at a distance from Main street, because wanted for business, and likely to be still higher in value, as the toll-bridge is made free. We hear of one gentleman who regretted that he did not have the numbers put on his houses last year, and lost half-a-day's time, in trying to get some and put them on himself. Another found his customers had left him and gone elsewhere, because the new figures were not on his store. We shall do a kindness to such persons, if there are any now who have not the new numbers on, by saying that B. B. Hill and Daniel Schoonmaker will supply them for a mere trifle, and the City Engineer gives any needed information free.

Trade has prospered. The houses that have done a business of half a million dollars or over the past year, are many more than in any previous twelve months. The income returns are twenty per cent greater for this city, though much more is exempted than formerly. Manufacturers have enlarged their shops, or are building new, and employing more hands, and still some are compelled to run over-time to keep up with orders. New business establishments come in. Some very good dividends are reported. The railroads bring more freights, are constantly adding new cars and engines, and have made satisfactory profits, no doubt; and, it is pleasant to notice, have materially reduced the fares here from all directions, as well as afforded increased accommodations for travel. The new railroads, too, are coming in due season. Liberal yet judicious expenditures are made for schools, public buildings, widening and macadamizing streets, and for sewers and granite curbing on almost all. Yet our taxes are much lower than in the other cities and large towns of the state. Over two millions of dollars was added by the Assessors to the valuation of property last year. Population here was never increasing so fast as now. More strangers have settled among us this season, than in any equal period before. Nearly two hundred dwellings, including blocks, were erected last year; and yet so quickly were they taken, that when a tenement was advertised lately, fifty-two applied for it the first day. One good lady told a real-estatist, that she had been house-hunting two weeks, and she was so glad he had a house for her, she would take it without seeing—if it was only a shelter; she did not know that seven were then looking at the premises, desiring to hire, though it was an early hour.

Some twenty new streets are to be opened this season, by private enterprise. The city government is also moving in the same direction, and is making a fine avenue, one hundred feet wide, from the south end towards Longmeadow. This new route opens a beautiful drive to the public, and is so far away from the railroad, that spirited horses will be in no danger of fright from the cars. So great is the demand for building lots, however, that land-owners do not wait for the city government. In not a few instances, a street is opened, handsomely planted with trees on either side, as is Bowdoin and Everett and so many others, and sewers put in, all at private expense, while the lots are quickly occupied. On the west side of North Main street, not far beyond Memorial Church, Mrs. Josiah Hooker has long piles of granite blocks stretched across her ground, at this end of it. Here the Town Brook is to be turned from its ox-bow course, and made to run from Main street westerly straight towards the culvert under the Connecticut River Railroad. The new channel, on Mrs. Hooker's part, is to be 446 feet long, well floored with plank, with granite sides, arched over with brick, and will be five feet wide and six feet high on the inside. The cost of this improvement alone is about $4,200, and over it will run the north sidewalk of Arch street. The old bed of the brook, a deep, winding chasm worth visiting, will be filled, and a sewer put in on Sheldon street, which is next north, so that the whole expenditure here by Mrs. Hooker will be at least ten thousand dollars. Yet she does it wisely; and the city, in Ward One, will be benefited by having the drainage from Ferry and other streets northward, that flows through Town Brook, thus covered over and relieved of its offensive character west of Main street.

A change for the better in appearance certainly, has been accomplished by the pulling down of old rookeries on Main and State streets, to make room for handsome blocks, and possibly for a large public market. The vacant ground or "park" in the rear of the City Hall has also been cleared and graded, and enclosed with a neat iron fence.

Improvements made by the city government pay handsomely, as the most cautious must admit. The widening and straightening of North Main street, at the junction of Carew, not only delights the eye of travelers, but has been followed by an offer of $40,000 for a lot near by, which cost the owner $12,000 four years ago, and which he is confident will by and by bring a much higher price.

In all parts of Springfield, wide-awake folk are studying where are to be new "centers of population," and occasionally buying tracts of ground, or considering how to open up what they have, with such taste and attractions as to secure speedy sales and occupancy. No wonder they hail any new light to be obtained from the careful canvass made for the DIRECTORY, and the information it aims to bring out. The excitement in real estate, however, is thus far only a legitimate result of the large and active demand for lots for immediate building purposes. There is little speculation, fortunately for all. Buyers reap the advantage as land is brought into market, for prices rise on their hands; and at the same time the public welfare is best promoted, if as many as possible become owners of homesteads, instead of paying rents.

THE SITUATION.

Strangers, and indeed all, do well to consult the map in front of the DIRECTORY, and fix in mind the general arrangement and position of the streets, public buildings, and places of interest which are there shown. This is the more necessary, because of the absence of guide-boards from many of our thoroughfares,—an omission that the new Board of Public Works doubtless will soon remedy. A knowledge of the principal streets north and south, and the cross-lines, is easily mastered.

Springfield, it will be seen, lies along the east bank of the Connecticut River for some four and a half miles; the Boston & Albany Railroad crossing the central part of the western boundary, while Brightwood is considerably to the northward, and Long Hill is at the south end, overlooking the "island," the mouths of the Westfield River, and the steamers that ply upon the Connecticut. Eastward the city stretches toward Wilbraham and Ludlow some eight miles, taking in Sixteen Acres and Indian Orchard. Of course, the population is most dense near the river, but the hill portions are charmingly diversified. Whether the prospect is seen from the top of the Arsenal on State street, from Crescent Hill on Maple, from the high grounds south of Locust street, from the upper part of Liberty, from Round Hill and Brightwood, or even from the city's precious bank of sand in the eastern part of Carew street, as well as from numerous other places, the view in each case is new and wide-reaching. The lover of nature need not go far in any direction without constantly increasing pleasure, as new and curious features of the landscape unexpectedly appear. Thus the advantages of the city and the pleasures of rural life are combined.

The facilities for intellectual, social and religious culture, as well as the material appliances and surroundings that mark a thriving place, may well be looked at in detail here, though briefly.

NEW CHURCHES.

The value of the new churches erected in the last seven years is nearly half a million dollars. This season three more are to be added, all fine specimens of architecture, and occupying new locations. These are the North Congregational, on Salem street, which, in exterior appearance and material, will somewhat resemble the Church of the Unity, and will cost ultimately nearly $100,000; the new house of worship on State street for the Union street Methodist Church, which is to be a fine structure of brick and stone, and cost nearly $75,000; and a new house on the corner of Maple and High streets, for the South Congregational Church, plans for which are not yet fully matured, but it will probably be one of the finest buildings of its kind in this vicinity. There are also several new chapels, and another is to be built this summer at the south end, which will be tasteful in its design, and furnish some three hundred sittings.

SCHOOLS AND SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

The excellence of our public schools is remarked abroad as well as here. Pupils are fitted for college, and so well as to be received at Harvard, Yale and other institutions sometimes in advanced classes. Ninety-three per cent. of all the children in the city were in the public schools last year. A half-time one, to provide for children in the mills at Indian Orchard, has been so successful and so much a new feature, as to bring many inquiries from leading educators in some of the other states.

Six large grammar school-houses have been built by the city since 1865, at an aggregate cost of not less than a quarter of a million dollars. They are handsome buildings, desirably located, pleasant and attractive, within and without, and furnished with valuable apparatus and all the modern conveniences.

A new High School-house is to be erected this year, on a fine lot next east of the Church of the Unity. Its cost will be about $100,000, and it is greatly needed to accommodate the increasing number of pupils. A detailed description will be found, under the head of "New Buildings," on a subsequent page.

THE CITY LIBRARY

Occupies one of the finest buildings in Springfield, on State street. It contains over 32,000 volumes, and new works are constantly added in various departments. It is practically free to the public, readers being allowed to consult books at the building, and only one dollar a year being required for membership and the privilege of taking books home. It is open daily, and also Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings.

The museum, which is in the same building, contains a large collection of specimens, relics and curiosities, and is constantly increasing in value. As a means of educating the people, the city library and museum are only second to the schools; and it is some consolation for the great number of dogs to be found, that the canine tax goes to such good objects.

A FREE READING-ROOM

Is also provided for the public, in a central location at the corner of Main and Bridge streets, by the Young Men's Christian Association.

RAILROADS.

The one great secret of the steady growth of Springfield is its importance as a railroad center. The Boston & Albany Railroad, two hundred miles long, with a capital of $20,000,000, forming a link in the most important line west from Boston, passes through the city from east to west, and has its principal offices here. The Springfield, Hartford & New Haven Railroad, with $6,300,000 capital, finishes the southern connection, and, with the Boston & Albany road, forms part of the most popular through route between New York and Boston,—one the metropolis of the whole country, and the other of New England; and the Connecticut River Railroad, with $1,700,000 of capital, takes the traveler northward, up the beautiful valley of the Connecticut, to connecting lines that will carry him to any part of northern New England or Canada. Three more new roads—the Springfield & Longmeadow, the Springfield & Farmington Valley, and the Springfield & Athol—are chartered, and will be completed in a few years, perhaps months. These new roads, while they are never likely to become important as through lines, like the roads already existing, are still sure to be valuable adjuncts to the present roads, and to bring tribute to the business of Springfield. Our city is already one of the most important railroad centers of New England, and with the new roads completed it will have facilities for travel and transportation that will make it still more desirable for residence and business of all kinds. A new iron bridge will soon be finished by the Boston & Albany, across the river here, and probably the plans for a new depot will then be taken up. The work has been delayed by the necessity of making it large, and locating it so as to serve, if possible, all the railroads now here or that are soon coming.

MANUFACTURES.

Counting each firm as one person, there were here at the last census, over three hundred manufacturers, employing over four thousand men and over one thousand women and children. These numbers would now, of course, need to be considerably increased, and would include new branches of industry. The United States Armory ranks first upon the list, as it has heretofore; but there is an increasing number of other large establishments, each employing nearly as many hands, taking the year through. A single firm employs nearly five hundred men making pistols. The Wason Manufacturing Company, in their shops, and in erecting new buildings, are employing perhaps a larger number, and will soon have the largest establishment of the kind in the country. Others might be instanced, but are "too numerous to mention." Skilled workmen are in the majority, and not a few Springfield mechanics are successful inventors, and some have become the heads of large concerns, whose products go to all lands.

It would be impossible to mention in detail all the manufacturing interests of Springfield,—they are so numerous and varied. We must refer readers to the advertisements of each concern, elsewhere. The list would embrace railroad cars, bridges, cotton, woolen and rubber goods, architectural ornaments, patent roofing, artificial stone, paints and chemicals, fire-arms, swords, cartridges, watches, jewelry, gold pens, clothing, candy, carpeting, water filters, soda fountains, toys, games, children's carriages, corks, paper collars and boxes, envelopes, books, trunks, spectacles, glazed paper and card board, skates, hand stamps, steel dies, and a thousand things besides.

TRADE.

The very large outlay proposed here this season, in the aggregate, for new buildings and other enterprises, must make the season a lively one for trade and industry. The prosperity of the past year has been mentioned. It is noticeable also that more large wholesale establishments appear upon the side streets, as well as upon Main. One house, on Worthington street, handled twenty-nine hundred tons of rags and paper stock in 1871, besides their other business; their transactions in the line mentioned have been more than threefold greater than in the same period a few years ago. Others have perhaps done as well, and some better.

The wholesale business of Springfield merchants is estimated at over twenty millions a year, and the retail trade is very large. Springfield is the natural business center of a wide area of territory, containing many thrifty towns. People come a long distance to do their shopping here, and the general verdict is that nowhere can they do better for their money. May the time never come when our dealers have a less honorable and generous reputation than now. A very good idea of the business of the city may be gained by reading the brief cards scattered through the list of names in the Directory, and the advertisements preceding and following them.

NEW ENTERPRISES.

The list of the more noticeable new buildings in Springfield, erected since the last DIRECTORY was issued, or soon to be commenced, is unusually large. Among these are the new court-house, costing, with land, nearly $200,000; three churches and the new high school-house, aggregating nearly $350,000; extensive works for the Wason Manufacturing Company at Brightwood; large business blocks on Main, Lyman, Worthington, Bridge, Water and other streets; two woolen factories, a chapel and other buildings at the south end; fine residences on Crescent Hill, Central, Carew, Bowdoin, Sheldon, Factory and many other streets; a hotel at Indian Orchard; and a large number of houses of a better class than in former years, and only less costly than some in the localities above named.

A new enterprise of the city fathers may also be mentioned. Having a desire last year to gain some knowledge of water, as a beverage, they caused samples to be procured from different sources that are used, or from which a supply may be sought. These have been analyzed by a celebrated chemist, who pronounced the quality of all surprisingly good. Estimates were also made by a competent engineer for bringing water to the city, even so far as from the Chicopee River, and he concluded a million dollars would be sufficient. But as the aqueduct has held out here when most other cities were short, it is possible nothing would have been done, had not an unusual number of our citizens this spring voted for a change of drinks. Such an increased demand for the fluid, was followed by a movement of our city government for more water here. It is believed it can be brought in cheaply, and yet supplied abundantly to all, so that even the dust may be thoroughly kept down on the streets, and the expenses of the fire department greatly lessened as well as the rates of insurance. The act of the last Legislature for supplying the people of Springfield with pure water has been accepted at a special election, and a Board of Water Commissioners elected. The list is given under the head of "City Government," in another place. The Board are vested with ample powers to purchase the present aqueduct property and make such further expenditures as are necessary, not exceeding one million dollars; and their names are a guarantee that the work will be well done.

THE WEATHER,

In a community of busy, stirring people, is an important element of calculations. The telegraph bulletins from "Old Probabilities" at Washington are so sure to be verified, though often seeming improbable, that new wonder and interest in an old topic are excited. Reports of the observations at our National Armory, as published occasionally the past year, have been read and preserved for comparison by scientific observers in other parts of the country, and are considered of special value, for their accuracy and place of record. Mr. Allin has kindly prepared for the DIRECTORY a more full and complete record than has appeared in the newspapers, as readers will notice on the opposite page.

New Buildings.

The new High School-house will be on State street, next east of the Church of the Unity, and fronting on a line with the latter edifice. The lot for it is 115 feet wide and 269 deep. Samuel J. F. Thayer, of Boston, is the architect. The plans were made after careful consultation with the school authorities and principal of the High School, as to the needs of the city, and admirably embody their wishes. Indeed, for convenience of arrangement, utilization of room and adaptation for the purposes intended, it is not easy to see how the designs could be improved. The building will be raised this season and completed next year. It will be 80 by 127 feet, with projections in front and rear 2 by 40 feet, and the center of each side recessed 6 by 65 feet. It will be three stories high, besides a finished basement. The walls and principal partitions are to be of brick, the former faced with pressed bricks, and with granite and Ohio stone trimmings. In the front part of the basement will be an industrial drawing school-room, 28 by 76 1-2 feet, and 11 1-2 feet high, the grade of the lot permitting full length windows and an excellent light for this room. Back of this will be two separate recreation rooms, each 76 1-2 feet by 30, and still further back will be a laboratory about 30 feet square, where pupils may study practical chemistry under direction of the teacher. The arrangement is such that those who attend the drawing school will not need to go into any other part of the building. The public entrance to the first floor and the floors above is through a portico and vestibule. On one side of the latter is the principal's business room, 17 feet by 11, and on the other a reception room, 22 by 11. The vestibule leads into a hall, 27 by 26 feet, which is also approached from side entrances to the building, which are specially designed for the pupils. This hall opens through two doors into the general study room, but the pupils will pass through the clothes rooms, one on each side, and thence into the study room, thus avoiding all crowding or confusion. The study room is 63 1-2 feet by 45 1-2; on this floor, also, are six commodious recitation rooms. The second floor is very similar, having a study room of the same size, but with seven recitation rooms instead of six, besides a room, 22 feet by 11, for a museum. In the third story is an exhibition hall, 84 1-2 feet by 64, at one end of which are three recitation-rooms, which may also be used as ante-rooms, as they are convenient to the platform; while at the other end are chemical and philosophical lecture-rooms, and between them, rooms for keeping chemical and philosophical apparatus. These latter are so arranged, by means of doors sliding upwards, that the apparatus can be made easily available to classes in the lecture-rooms, or to larger audiences in the hall, as may be desired. Ample arrangements are made for ventilation and abundant light. The boiler and coal-rooms are in a separate brick building, 24 by 40 feet in the rear. Accommodations will be provided for 350 scholars, and the cost of buildings and ground will be nearly $100,000.

A new house of worship for the North Church will be completed the coming year, on Salem street, nearly opposite Elliott. It is designed by H. H. Richardson of New York, architect of the Church of the Unity and the new court-house; and, like the former, it is of brownstone, but of the Norman style of architecture. The building takes the form of a cross, having the tower and spire on the side towards Elliott street, and a chancel, pastor's study and class-room in the rear. Outside, the extreme length of the nave, including chancel, will be 123 feet, the width nearly 50 feet, and the width of the transept 88 feet. The height from floor to ridge-pole will be about 50 feet. The tower will be 22 feet square, and the spire above it, which will be stone throughout, will rise to a height of nearly 150 feet. The audience room will seat 1,000 persons on the ground floor; the galleries will not be put in at present, but when they are added the house will accommodate 1,300 people. The parish have also voted to purchase additional land, on which to build a temporary chapel, to be replaced hereafter by a stone chapel, in the same style of architecture as the church. The entire cost of land, church and furnishing, will be nearly $100,000. Norcross Brothers, of Worcester, are the builders.

The new house of worship on the corner of State and Myrtle streets, to be erected for the Union street Methodist Church, is to be ready for occupancy May 1, 1873, and in style of architecture like the City Library. It will be built mainly of brick, with trimmings of Ohio and Portland stone, and will be 110 feet long by 60 wide, fronting on State street, with the tower in the center on the north end. The spire surmounting the tower will rise to a height of 150 feet from the ground. There will be two entrances, the main one on State street and the side one on Myrtle. The interior will be finished in black walnut and ash, and furnish sittings for 1200 people. The organ and choir are to be in the rear of the pulpit, which will be placed in the south end of the church, fronting the State street entrance. The cost will be about $75,000, and S. J. F. Thayer, of Boston, is the architect, and Amaziah Mayo the builder.

At the south end of the city, a handsome chapel will soon be completed, on the north side of the "X" road, a little east of Long Hill. It will front to the south, with entrance on the east side, through a tower 10 feet square, above which the spire rises to a height of 75 feet. The audience room is 46 by 28 feet, with chancel projecting in the rear 8 by 17. On the west side is a room for prayer meetings, 15 by 20 feet, which may form part of the audience room when the latter is too full. The Long Hill Sunday-school and other persons desiring regular preaching in that vicinity, are accommodated by the new chapel. Members of the South Church contribute liberally for it, and Joyce & Burnham are the builders.

The new Court-house for Hampden county is rising above its foundations, and will probably be roofed over this season, and completed in 1873. The designs are by H. H. Richardson of New York; and Norcross Brothers, of Worcester, are the builders. It fronts on Elm street, but is set back 48 feet on that side, and 43 from State street, and will be an effective but unpretending building of granite, simple in mass and grave in design as befits its purpose. The Town Hall of Belgium and the Broletto of Italy—the models for the municipal buildings of modern times—were always characterized by a similar simplicity of general form, though always enriched with an elaboration of detail which would be inadmissible in granite, inconsistent with the sober tastes of New England, and incompatible with the limits of economy imposed by the price of labor in our day. The characteristic features of these buildings are here reproduced with such modifications as difference of climate and customs demands—as the open loggia for general gatherings,—the balcony whence the people may be addressed, the tower to give dignity, and the belfry to announce the signals of public danger or rejoicings. The treatment of the front of this building makes its purpose conspicuous; the tower, with its belfry and clock-face, the hospitable vestibule, and the disposition of the windows marking it as a place of assemblage for public purposes. The general surface of the front is of rockfaced granite, relieved by cut and hammered "dressings," and a trifling amount of decorative carving, confined to a few conspicuous points. Durability is insured by the material, and by the solid construction which is to pervade the work throughout, and while the exterior will afford no point of vantage for the attack of fire from neighboring buildings, as at Chicago, (the cornices and dormer windows being all of granite in this building)—those parts of the interior which inclose valuable contents will be built entirely fire-proof. The general plan of the building is in the form of the capital letter I, 89 feet 4 inches by 158 feet 4 inches in extreme dimensions, with a hall running longitudinally through the center. There are two high stories above the low basement, giving an elevation of 49 feet 8 inches to the eaves from the pavement; and a third story in the lofty roof, the ridge of which is 78 feet 8 inches from the pavement. The tower, to the top of the belfry, is 126 feet 8 inches high. The basement is appropriated to purposes of general storage and heating, and is mostly above ground, so that the first floor is at a level of 6 feet from the sidewalk. On the first floor, the front space, exclusive of the vestibule (13 feet by 54), is to be occupied by the rooms of the Register of Deeds and Probate, on the right and left of the entrance—in the front transverse arm. The portion of the longitudinal arm first approached contains wide public staircases on either side, and beyond will be the Treasurer's, grand jury, witness and spare rooms,—the remote transverse arm being occupied by the rooms of the Clerk of the Courts and County Commissioners, with their dependent lavatories, etc., and the private stairs and entrance hall for judges, lawyers and officers. The front part of the second floor will contain witness and other rooms subservient to the grand court-room—a spacious hall 60 feet square and 31 feet high, which will occupy the whole of the middle space (exclusive of the stair-ways.) The public will be accommodated by galleries on the sides, while under the galleries are lobbies for consultations and retiring, and the passage-ways giving access on this floor, from the front to the rear of the building. The rear arm of this floor has the library and lawyers' rooms—each 22 feet 6 inches by 35 feet 8 inches, with lobbies, private consultation rooms, lavatories, etc., attached. The rooms in the roof will be appropriated as future necessity shall require. The finish of the interior is to be marked by the same simplicity as the exterior, the halls being laid with encaustic tiles, and the wood-work throughout constructed of ash. Every room, passage and staircase will be lighted directly from the exterior, excepting a short part of the central hall in the first story, which will nevertheless be amply supplied by secondary light without resorting to wells. The cost of the building and ground will be about $200,000.

On Lyman street, a little east of the Agawam Bank, a block of five stores is soon to be erected, from original designs by George E. Potter, for William Mattoon. It will be one of the most substantial buildings in the city, and will be of granite, 117 1-2 by 81 feet, five stories high, with arched windows surmounted by heavy keystone projections, and fronting north on the railroad and south on Lyman street. The cost will be $60,000.

At 309 Main street, James Abbe & Son are erecting a stove and tin store and shop, from designs by J. M. Currier. It is of the Romanesque style of architecture, fronts 24 feet on Main street, and is 128 deep, and four stories high, besides having a finished basement. The front is of Philadelphia pressed brick, with heavy marble caps and sills for the windows, both front and side, and galvanized iron cornice. All the windows are of plate glass ; and the three large ones in front of the first story, will be each a single pane, 5 1-2 by 11 feet. The building will cost $20,000; Currier & Richards, builders; Spooner & Topliff, masons.

On the north-east corner of Main and Worthington streets, Emerson Wight is building a four story brick block, with mansard roof, fronting 57 feet on Main street and 200 on Worthington. The front on the former street is of pressed brick, and the whole is trimmed with galvanized iron, finished in imitation of Portland stone. The cost is about $40,000. George E. Potter, architect; Amaziah Mayo, builder.

At 83 to 91 Worthington street, Dickinson & Mayo have recently completed a brick block of three stores, largely for wholesale business. It is 75 by 100 feet, and four stories high, besides having a mansard roof. The front is of Philadelphia pressed brick, with granite and Cleveland stone trimmings. The cost was about $50,000. Near the rear of this block are a new brick barn and sheds for the same firm, costing $4,000.

At 206 to 226 Main street, a new block is soon to be commenced for W. H. Allis, which will add materially to accommodations needed for trade and business in Ward One. Thomas R. Jackson of New York is the architect. The part to be first erected is 130 feet long on Main street, 135 deep, and five stories high in front and six stories high in the rear. It will be of brick, with granite and Ohio stone facings ; and a new and similar ornamental front will be put upon the present Allis block, next south, so that the whole will form one structure, 216 feet long on Main street, of uniform design, attractive and imposing in its appearance, and somewhat different in style of architecture from other blocks in the city. The first floor will be chiefly occupied by stores of ample size. Above, at the south end, will be a hotel, with a wide main entrance in the new part, taking in the rooms of the present Allis House, and increasing their number to 175 or 200. An open area, 12 by 40 feet, above the central portion of the first south story in the new part, will admit light to the interior of the hotel. North of this, 58 feet of the middle of the block projects somewhat in front, and in its centre will be a grand entrance, through an open granite porch, to a large public hall on the second floor. The latter will be 85 by 140 feet, and will seat 2,500 persons. It will be surmounted by a dome 50 feet high in the clear, through which light will be admitted. Four stairways will connect this hall with the street on three sides, affording quick and abundant egress. A real estate exchange, insurance and law offices, and possibly on the first floor at the north corner a bank, are to be provided for. The portion built this year will probably cost $75,000, and the entire block will involve an expenditure of $200,000.

J. C. & E. A. Alden are building on Mill River, between Main and Fort Pleasant streets, a brick woolen factory, 50 by 80 feet, three stories high, besides a basement. It will be a four set mill, and will probably be completed, stocked with machinery, and commence running in October, and then employ nearly sixty operatives. A separate building, also of brick, is to be erected for the drying and picker room, and will be 25 by 40 feet, and two stories high. The whole will involve an expenditure of $60,000 to $70,000. J. M. Currier is the architect. The fine doeskin goods made here rank high in the market, and like many other Springfield productions, are widely known and quickly purchased.

On Mill River another woolen mill will be erected this season, above that of the Messrs. Alden, by Howard & Brothers. It will be of brick and stone, 56 by 100 feet, and four stories high.

On Hanover street, D. L. Swan builds this season a three-story brick shop, 40 by 104 feet, with finished basement, and costing about $7,000.

On the corner of Worthington street and Fairbanks avenue, a block of five stores, with tenements above, is going up for Patrick Fitzgerald and George E. Page. It is of brick, with free-stone trimmings, and 100 feet front by 50 deep, three stories high, with mansard roof. The cost will be $30,000, besides the lot.

On the north-east corner of Bridge and Water streets, a block of five stores is to be erected this season by Patrick Fitzgerald and George E. Page. The building will be of brick, with Portland stone trimmings, 60 by 100 feet, three stories high, with mansard roof, and cost $40,000, without the ground.

On the north-east corner of Harrison avenue and Dwight street, C. C. Moulton is putting up a three-story brick block, trimmed with free-stone, which, when fully completed next year, will be 44 by 60 feet, and occupied by stores below and shops above. The cost will be $15,000.

On the west corner of Walnut and Cedar streets, a brick block has been erected for A. Bumstead. It is 40 by 48 feet, two stories high, with French roof, and occupied for stores on the first floor and tenements above. The cost was about $6,000, without the land. S. W. Pratt, builder.

The H., N. H. & R. R. Co. have built on the east side of the Connecticut River, a wall of granite and cement, 12 feet thick at base and 30 high, and extending above 150 feet south from the bridge of the B. & A. R. R., and it may be continued to the toll bridge. Back of the north part of this wall, the land is filled up, and on it the former corporation will erect a brick round-house for engines, this season, containing 15 pits, and of handsome appearance.

At the corner of Water and Elm streets, the Springfield Gas Light Company are building a new retort-house, of brick and iron, 126 by 60 feet, and 22 feet high.

At Brightwood, north of Memorial Church and on the Connecticut River Railroad, the Wason Manufacturing Company are building new shops, which will have a capacity at least one-third larger than those of any similar establishment in the country, and will probably cost over a quarter of a million dollars. The paint shop, just completed, is 500 feet long and 75 wide, the roof being an acre and a quarter in extent, and the windows containing 7,518 square feet of glass. The foundry, 170 by 62 feet, is also up, and will have a cupola building in its rear. East of the foundry and next to the Connecticut River Railroad track, will be a building, 150 by 32 feet, for pitting wheels; and next west of the foundry, a machine shop, 45 by 96 and two stories high, in the rear of which will be the blacksmith shop, 150 by 45 feet, with a deck roof. In connection with this will be a room, 30 by 40, for storing iron. Next west will be the body-erecting shop, 117 by 75 feet, with a deck roof; and in connection with this will be a building, 200 by 62 feet, and two stories high, for a wood-working shop. The last named building will also have an ell, 60 by 40 feet. Besides these there will be an office building, 40 by 80 feet, a large dry-house, and an engine-house. The office will be one story high with a French roof, and will contain comfortable sleeping apartments for a fire brigade, to be formed from the unmarried workmen. The engine-house will be supplied with a new 125 horse power engine and three new boilers, it being the purpose of the company to begin operations in the new shops within a year, and without loss of time in moving from the old. All of the many buildings named will be connected by means of numerous railroad tracks, and all of them, except the paint shop, already built, the office building and the lumber sheds and barns, will be constructed of brick. The entire shops and lumber yard are north of Wason street and west of the railroad, and will occupy sixteen and a half acres of ground. C. McClallan & Son, of Chicopee, are contractors for the mason-work, and in doing it will lay over two millions of brick. Upwards of 400 skilled workmen, most of them heads of families, find steady employment in the shops of the Wason Manufacturing Company, and for lack of room, work much over-time. In the new establishment the force can be increased to 800 men. Of course, a good deal of house-building must be done also at Brightwood the coming year, to accommodate so many people. Two passenger cars, and from eighteen to twenty freight cars are now finished weekly by the company, besides the founding of two to three hundred car wheels, and from sixty to seventy tons of castings.

At Brightwood, Currier & Richards are building a forge-shop for N. W. Talcott, west of C. R. R. track and 1,000 feet south of Wason street. The building is 75 by 103 feet, with truss roof, and 53 feet high in the clear inside. The cost is about $5,000. When complete and in full running order, this forge will be the largest axle factory in New England.

A new school-house will this season replace a smaller one on Union street. It is 32 by 72 feet, two stories high, and the rooms will be 13 feet high in the clear. Joyce & Burnham do the work, and the cost will be only about $6,500.

Mr. O. H. Greenleaf's mansion on Crescent hill has now been about a year building, and although another year will be taken to complete the work, it already shows what a charming place it is to be. Mr. Greenleaf had at the outset the advantage of one of the most sightly and pleasant locations in the Connecticut valley. On the brow of Crescent Hill, it looks down, as from a tower, upon the city at its base, with a view of the Connecticut for miles, while the prospect stretches to the Blandford, Granville and Hartland (Ct.) mountains, and the spires of Suffield are plainly visible. To the east the view is circumscribed by Wilbraham mountain. A site so rare demanded a house of befitting beauty and elegance, and it is such a one that Mr. Greenleaf is building. His architect is Mr. George Hathorne of New York, whose plans in this case are carried out to the letter. The house is an English cottage of large dimensions, the extreme length being 82 feet and the width 54, but its lines are so skillfully and gracefully broken, that the impression is not that of a large structure, but of a delightful home. The outside material is the best quality of Philadelphia pressed brick, which is relieved by Ohio sandstone, and at the base of Fitzwilliam granite; the inside partitions are also brick, and the mode of construction is, in every detail, of the most substantial character. An arched entrance looks invitingly toward the street, while on either side are broad verandas, and above a handsome tower, all of which add to the comeliness of the exterior. From entrance, verandas, tower, and in fact from almost every window in the house, views can be obtained finer than many that people climb mountains to see; and the house being on the eastern side of the street, the whole western sweep is seen from the front and side windows. The rooms are ample in number and models in arrangement. The barn is also a beauty in its way, and will include a cozy tenement, neatly fitted up for the "hired man" and his wife. Without aiming at ostentatious display, Mr. Greenleaf has spared no money to secure a thoroughly good house in the best modern style, and when it is completed we will have to go far to find a better. C. S. Ferry, superintendent; Howe & Whittemore, masons.

On Crescent Hill, nearly opposite Mr. Greenleaf's, another elegant house has been commenced for J. G. Chase. It is from designs by Vaux, Withers & Co., of

New York, and somewhat similar in design to that of Mr. Greenleaf. Its situation is very fine, commanding views as beautiful and extended as may be seen in the city. It is of brick, with Cleveland stone trimmings, 40 by 60 feet, and two stories. The barn, north-west of the house, will be a handsome building of corresponding style and material and will contain the coachman's residence, and be well-appointed and conveniently arranged throughout. C. S. Ferry is superintendent, and the cost will probably not be less than $30,000 for both buildings, exclusive of ground.

On Madison avenue, a brick cottage is nearly completed for Rufus Chase. It attracts the eye of a tasteful observer at once, on entering Central street from Maple. It is of large size and handsome exterior, finely finished and conveniently arranged, and the prospect from its tower is rarely equalled. The cost is over $16,000. Perkins, & Gardner, architects ; J. H. Marien, builder.

On the south side of Carew street, opposite Massasoit, a two-story house with mansard roof is being built for W. H. Allis, from designs by Perkins & Gardner. It will cost over $30,000, and is an ornament to this portion of the city, and at once noticed from Main street, in passing northward from Hooker school-house. It is of brick with granite foundations and Ohio stone trimmings, the main part being 46 by 40 feet, and the ell 46 by 32. The entrance is through an open porch of Fitzwilliam granite, above which a tower rises 65 feet, from the top of which the prospect is very fine and far-reaching in every direction. An octagon projection, 5 by 14 feet, on the north side, is crowned by a pinnacle eight feet higher than the adjoining roof, and matching the tower. There are piazzas, balconies, bay window and driving porch on the outer sides; while within the arrangement of the rooms is tasteful and pleasing, securing also great convenience ; the principal ones are finished in natural woods; and the play room would make young eyes water with pleasure. Currier & Richards, builders ; Spooner & Topliff, masons.

On the south side of Mulberry street, near Maple, Chauncey Shepard is building a house for J. W. Phelps, from plans by S. J. F. Thayer of Boston. It is of Philadelphia pressed brick, with Portland stone foundation and Cleveland stone trimmings. The main part is two stories, 47 by 56 feet ; the ell one story, 23 by 34, and the roof is mansard. On the west side is a two-story octagon projection, 6 by 21 feet, crowned with a balustrade. Above the ionic portico in front, rises a tower 56 feet to top of finials, the latter and the tower and roof being ornamented with iron crest-work; a piazza extends from the porch to the west side, crowned with balustrade and urns. The cost will be about $25,000.

On Maple street, near Ames' Hill, fine residences are soon to be erected for Mrs. F. D. Loomis and Captain James B. Hatch; and one on the corner of Avon place and Maple street, for George Dwight, Jr.

On Avon place, near Maple street, L. C. Smith designs building a two-story house of medium size, handsome exterior and excellent finish, to cost about $10,000. Chauncey Shepard, architect and builder.

On the south side of Avon place, near its east end, George R. Townsley will build a two story house, with octagon projection and piazza on the west side. The main part will be 25 by 40 feet, ell 18 feet square, and the cost about $6,000 besides lot. Chauncey Shepard, architect.

On the east side of Elliott street, W. S. Buxton is building for A. S. Dwelly a two-story French villa, with mansard roof, from designs by J. M. Currier, architect of Mr. Sturtevant's house on the same street. The main part is 45 by 38 feet, besides projecting bay windows on the sides, and the ell in rear is 28 feet square. The entrance in front is through an open porch, with balcony on either hand. A tower rises above the porch 17 feet higher than the other roofs, and its top is ornamented with iron crestings, as is also the roofs of the main part and bay windows. There are hoods over the windows of the first story, balconies on the second story, and a covered balcony in front of the third story of the tower. The whole will present a fine appearance upon the street, and the cost will be $20,000.

C. H. Smith (of the firm of Smith & Currier,) contemplates removing the house on the south-east corner of Bowdoin and Worthington streets, and erecting here a two-story French villa, from original designs by George E. Potter. Including projections, it will be 52 by 56 feet. In front is a veranda 10 feet wide, with heavy pillars and open porch in the center. Above the latter, a tower rises 60 feet from the ground. There will be four bay windows, numerous balconies for both floors, and all the exterior finish will be abundantly ornamented with fine carved work. The principal rooms will be finished in hard wood, with plate glass windows, and the cost of the house will be over $15,000.

At 58 Pearl street, a two-story house is nearly completed for J. F. Peck. It is of brick, with stone trimmings, octagon front, cruciform projections each side, finished basement and mansard roof. The interior finish is hard wood. Cost, about $10,000 exclusive of lot. E. W. Shattuck, builder ; D. J. Curtis, mason. The patent cement sidewalk in front, in colors, is a new thing here.

At 35 Federal street, H. C. Martin is building a two-story house, 41 by 62 feet, with mansard roof. The entrance in front is surmounted by a four-story tower, affording fine views from its top. Two-story bay windows on the north and south sides rise into dormers above, and large projecting hoods over other windows form balconies for the second floor; in front of the third story of the tower is a balustrade, and piazzas on the west and south sides of the house. The cost will be about $15,000. Perkins & Gardner, architects.

At 23 and 25 Elliott street, B. F. Farrar has built a double house of brick, with Portland stone trimmings. It is 41 by 46 feet, two stories high, with mansard roof, two bay windows in front, and piazzas each side. The windows are of plate glass, and the cost of the house is $22,000, exclusive of lot.

At 117 and 119 High street, B. F. Farrar is building for H. M. Burt of The Homestead, a two-story double house, of brick with freestone trimmings. It is 47 by 36 feet, with two three-story bay windows in front, and a finished basement and mansard roof. The windows are of plate glass, and the cost of the house is nearly $20,000.

On Byers street, opposite the Armory grounds, F. J. Viner proposes to build a first-class double house, of brick, with Ohio stone trimmings. It will be 48 by 57 feet, two stories high, with mansard roof and finished basement, and contain some sixteen rooms in each half. There are three-story bay windows in front, and a double porch, somewhat novel in its design and surmounted with iron cresting. The cost will be $16,000, exclusive of lot. George E. Potter, architect.

At 206 Union street, D. DeForrest Douglass is building a brick house, with Ohio stone trimmings and plate glass windows. It is 30 by 41 feet, besides finished basement and mansard roof, and has a four-story bay window in front, and another on the west side. Mr. Douglass is also building an office at No. 208, adjoining the house, and of similar hight, style and material, 20 by 39 feet, with three-story bay window in front, and accommodating his greatly increased business. Fire Department.

Springfield has considerably increased its means of protection against fire the past year. It has now six steam fire engines, a hand engine, two hook and ladder trucks, a chemical fire extinguisher, and a fire alarm telegraph. Of the ten hose carriages, two are run by horses, and the others by hand; one hose carriage is operated by a separate company of twenty men, and the others are connected with the steamers. The department numbers nearly one hundred and sixty men. They have been called out to over thirty fires the past year. In two cases, they extinguished without much damage, fires that had broken out by accident in some of our largest dry goods stores; in another instance a disastrous conflagration was probably prevented, which had got well started close by a large oil store on one side and a building containing equally inflammable material on the other. Had the south end of Main street been macadamized as far as the Alden mill, when that building caught fire, the steamers would not have been stuck in deep mud of the early spring, on their way there, and might otherwise have saved twenty thousand dollars' worth of the property destroyed, though the building was old, saturated with oil, and quite a distance off. As required by a new city ordinance, the Chief Engineer devotes his whole time to the business and interests of the department. He says the men are promptly on hand when needed and work well. Their improvement and efficiency are manifest.

No company is now organized for the second hook and ladder truck, which is at Indian Orchard.

The government own the steamer at the U. S. Armory, and pay the company, but their aid is given at all fires, when required. The other fire companies are paid by the city. Horses for Steamer No. 1 are owned by the city, but furnished for the others by yearly contract, including drivers, as follows: for Steamer No. 2, and Hook and Ladder Truck No. 1, $600, by James O'Keefe; for Steamer No. 3, $500, by E. Fire Alarm Telegraph.

How to Give Alarm for Fire—Unlock the nearest box, pull down the hook once to the bottom of the slot, and let go. This gives the desired alarm all over the city, repeating itself five times. Remain by the box a moment after giving alarm, and if no clicking is heard in the box, pull again; if you still hear no clicking, go to the next nearest box, and give the alarm from that. Be sure the box is locked before leaving it. The box is of iron, and double, and the inner one is inaccessible, except to those in charge of the telegraph, and the Chief Engineer.

Caution—Never pull the hook while the bell or gong in the box is striking. Never touch the hook except to give an alarm of fire. Never signal for a fire at a distance, nor for a chimney. Inform yourself of the location of boxes and keys near you. Keys are in possession of responsible citizens near each box, and the police and Board of Engineers of the Fire Department.

Massachusetts, by the census of 1870, has a population of 1,457,351, of whom 1,104,032 are native born, and 353,319 foreign born; the colored persons and the Indians number only 13,189. There are 340 towns and 16 cities, and the total population of the latter is a little more than 620,000, three quarters of whom are native born. In 1865, the census showed the population of Massachusetts to be 1,267,031; voters, 246,182.

The valuation of this state, by the census of 1870, is $1,684,000,000, against, $1,009,709,652 in 1865. The actual wealth of our people is, however, much greater. Allowing for undervaluation of property by town assessors, and for that exempt from taxation and so not reported, and the grand total must be over twenty-two hundred millions, giving as the average for each man, woman and child in the State over $1,500,—larger, probably, than in any community of equal area in the world. And nowhere else, perhaps, is it so largely distributed to all. We have but few paupers, and most of those come from abroad.

Williams of Oregon; salary, $8,000. Postmaster-General, John A. J. Creswell of Maryland; salary, $8,000.

Strong of Pennsylvania, David Davis of Illinois, Noah H. Swayne of Ohio, Samuel F. Miller of Iowa, Stephen J. Field of California; salary, $8,000 each.

Court meets first Monday in December at Washington.

United States Census—1870.

Since the publication of the census last year, material corrections have been made in the official figures; the returns, even at that late day, not having been received from all parts of the country and ciphered out. It is now given with the revised figures, and will be handy for reference. There are 37 States and 10 Territories, besides Alaska, the latter being as yet of small account, and occupied by 75,000 Indians and a few soldiers and traders. The total population in 1860 was 31,443,783; in 1870, 38,555,983, of whom 4,880,009 are free colored, and foreign born 5,566,546. The Chinese number 63,254, and 25,731 Indians were counted, but the majority of the Red Men were not seen by the census-takers, and are estimated at 250,000 more, besides those in Alaska.

Hixon, Roderick Burt, Elbridge Brigham, Charles H. Smith, Samuel R. Newell, Henry Morris. Superintendents of Bible service, Elbridge Brigham, James L. Johnson, and A. L. Leonard.

Meetings—Sunday, at 10 1-2 A. M., (with preaching,) 2 1-2 P. M., (Bible service and Sunday-school,) 7 P. M., (Prayer.) Monday night, young people's prayer meeting, 7 1-2 P. M.; Wednesday, female prayer meeting, 3 P. M.; Thursday night at 7 1-2 P. M., regular church prayer meeting at the chapel, followed by teachers' meeting; also a prayer meeting at Central street schoolhouse, Thursday evening, at 7 1-2 P. M. In summer, the evening meetings begin half an hour later Sunday, and a quarter of an hour later other nights.

This is our oldest church, and but one year younger than Springfield. It has had few pastors, those preceding the last one having averaged a term of thirty-six years each. The former pastors were: Rev. George Moxon (1637–1652), Rev. Peletiah Grover (1661–1692), Rev. Daniel Brewer (1693–1733), Rev. Robert Breck (1736–1784), Rev. Bezaleel Howard, D. D. (1785–1809), Rev. Samuel Osgood, D. D. (1809–1862), Rev. Henry M. Parsons (1854–1870).

The number of members is 620, of whom perhaps 75 are non-resident, and there are thirty over eighty years of age, and the average attendance at Sunday morning service is over 600; benevolent contributions the past year, $4,276, of which amount $695 was from the Sunday-school; raised for church purposes, $7,629, besides paying a debt of $6,138. The Sunday-school numbers 565, with an average attendance of 350; contributions from its members the past year, $750. None of this sum was used for expenses, except a small portion for replenishing the library; but a Sunday-school missionary in California received $500; $100 was given to aid a student in obtaining an education, and poor children at home were clothed and cared for, as is also done by the other churches.

The young people's society was organized in 1871, and meets in the chapel the fourth Friday evening of every month at 7 1-2 P. M. The Young People's Gazette is read (a manuscript paper edited by two ladies and two gentlemen); and there are debates, charades, recitations and readings from select authors, with a full attendance; President, S. C. Warriner; Secretary, W. B. Parker. There are 160 members.

A new feature of the past year is noticeable in regard to all the larger churches of the city. People realize somewhat, that while their busy pastor visits at once the sick whenever informed of such, and in other cases of need, he can not call on every body who may expect him. Yet, that he may know of the welfare of all in his charge, and that new-comers especially may have kindly welcome and help, the parish is divided into districts, (for the First Congregational Church there are thirty,) and ladies appointed for each, who visit quarterly or oftener every family in the congregation.

Parish Committee—Roderick Burt, J. R. Hixon, W. H. Wilkinson; Sexton, Oliver H. Perry. For seats apply to Roderick Burt.

Olivet Congregational Church—State street, opposite Armory grounds. Founded in 1833. Rev. L. H. Cone, pastor; settled in 1867; salary, $2,500. Deacons, William A. Spooner, B. F. Quinby, E. A. Hubbard, George Dillingham. Sunday-school superintendent, B. F. Quinby; assistant superintendent, E. A. Hubbard.

Meetings—Sabbath, 10 1-2 A. M., (Bible service and Sunday school;) 2 1-4 P. M., (preaching;) 7 P. M. in winter, 7 1-2 P. M. in summer, (prayer.) Monday night, Sunday-school prayer meeting, and on Thursday night, church prayer meeting, at 7 1-2 P. M. in winter and 7 3-4 P. M. in summer.

This church is the second in age of its denomination in the city. Of the nineteen original members, but five are living, and three still connected with it. The membership is 267, of whom 249 reside in Springfield; benevolent contributions the past year, about $1,200.

The Sabbath forenoon is given to the Bible service, (Sunday-school,) in which the pastor takes an active part. This is well attended, especially by the young, numbering 355, and averaging 205; and many of the older people, who are necessarily kept at home in the morning, are accommodated by the afternoon preaching. The average congregation is 400.

Parish Committee, Charles Barrows, Horace Kibbe, William E. Montague, George S. Savage; Clerk, George B. Kilbon; Sexton, Charles A. Ford.

South Congregational Church—Bliss street, near Main. Founded in 1843. Rev. S. G. Buckingham, D. D., pastor; settled, January, 1847; salary, $3,000. Deacons, Erastus Hayes, Henry A. Robinson, A. F. Cowles, O. W. Wilcox. Sunday-school superintendent, Rollin H. Loomis.

Thursday night, church prayer meeting, at 7 1-2 P. M. in winter, 7 3-4 P. M. in summer, followed by a teachers' meeting.

This church had but one pastor before the present one, Rev. Noah Porter, who was dismissed in 1847 to accept a professorship in Yale College. The membership is 358; average attendance on the Sabbath, 300; benevolent contributions the last year, $9,842. The Sunday-school and mission schools number 566, with an average attendance of 397.

The mission Sunday-school gathered by members of this church, near corner of Union street and Eastern avenue, occupies the new Hope Chapel there, and meets on Sunday at 1 P. M. The membership is 220, with an average attendance of 200, none being received who also attend Sunday-school elsewhere, for want of room. There is a library of 800 volumes, and papers are supplied every week. H. S. Lee is superintendent; Frank Homer and Frank Hodges, librarians. Regular preaching is sustained here on the Sabbath at 10 1-2 A. M. and 6 P. M., and well attended. The second Sunday evening of the month is usually given to the Sunday-school concert. Prayer meeting Wednesday evenings at 7 1-2 P. M., at Hope Chapel.

Long Hill Sunday-school meets at Long Hill school-house at 2 P. M., Sunday. It has 100 members, for whom its present quarters are too small. S. D. Burbank, its superintendent, and most of the teachers, are from the South Church; and chiefly by contributions from members of the church, a handsome chapel will soon be completed for this Sunday-school, near Long Hill on the road to the "X."

A new house of worship is soon to be erected for the South Church, on the north corner of Maple and High streets, costing with the land nearly $100,000. The plans are not yet completed.

M. from April to September inclusive—with preaching; missionary meeting on the First Sunday evening in each month; church prayer meeting, Thursday night at 7 1-2 P. M. from October 1 to April 1, and at 7 3-4 P. M. from April 1 to October 1. Sunday-school at 11.45, at close of morning service; Sunday-school teachers' class at close of Thursday evening prayer meeting. The communion service is at 3.30 P. M. on the first Sundays of May, July, September; and at 3 P. M. on the first Sundays of November, January, March.

This church was organized with twenty-two members, and held meetings at first in Frost's Hall on Sanford street. The pastors preceding the present were: Rev. Raymond H. Seeley, D. D., dismissed to take charge of the American Chapel at Paris, France; Rev. James Drummond, removed by death; Rev. L. Clark Seelye, dismissed to accept a professorship in Amherst College. A colony of fifty-five members from this church was organized into the Memorial Church, October 27, 1865.

The membership of the North Church, May 1, 1872, was 367, of which 103 were absent or non-resident; and about 50 members of other churches are regular communicants here. The number of separate families represented in the parish is 225; parishioners, regular or irregular in attendance, about 1,000; usual congregation, about 400. The Sunday-school numbers 314. The annual expenditure is not far from $5,500.

North of the Boston and Albany Railroad, there was a large population, but no house of worship, nor regular preaching, when this church was formed. It has done a missionary work here. Many of its members were from the North Church; some came also from other religious societies. The help of the children was assured when Scatter-good Sunday-school came in. The latter had been started in 1861 by a Methodist lady, and largely sustained by the Pynchon Street Church.

The membership is over 200; the average congregation, 600; and the Sunday-school numbers about 450. The whole district north of the railroad is visited twice a year by the Sunday-school teachers, and all children not connected with any other Sunday-school invited to attend.

Memorial Church Young People's Association was organized in February, 1871, to promote social feeling among its members. It has been very successful in furnishing popular amusements and filling its treasury. Meetings are held in the chapel on alternate Wednesday evenings, from October to July. President, C. W. Dickerman; Vice-President, Homer F. Buxton; Secretary, Carrie B. Hastings; Treasurer, W. H. Miller.

This church was formed of a number of members who left the First Church because they held more liberal views than the pastor. They were incorporated as the "Third Congregational Society of Springfield." Jonathan Dwight, one of their number, gave to the society a meeting-house, built at his own expense, and of such dimensions and elegance as they directed. Other members subscribed $16,000 as a permanent fund for the support of preaching. The pastors have been Rev. William B. O. Peabody, Rev. George F. Simmons, Rev. Francis Tiffany and Rev. Charles A. Humphreys.

The society is represented by 225 families and over 700 parishioners. The church membership is about 100; average congregation, 400. The Sunday, school has 130 pupils. Mrs. E. S. Clary, mother of Gen. Robert Clary and of Mrs. Joseph Ingraham, who died the past year, aged 95 years, was a member of this church, and the oldest woman, if not the oldest inhabitant of Springfield.

The present house of worship, whose erection is due in a great measure to the earnest efforts of Rev. Mr. Humphreys, was completed and dedicated early in 1869, and cost $150,000. It is of the Italian-Grecian style of architecture, and built of brown stone from the Longmeadow quarries. The audience room is 85 feet long and 54 feet wide, with walls 30 feet high on the inside; back of this is the chapel or Sunday-school room, 55 feet long and 24 feet wide. A tower rises from the north-west corner, terminating in a spire, whose point is 144 feet from the ground, and all of stone. For situation, style of finish and general appearance, this church edifice ranks among the finest in the country. It stands back from the street, and the well-kept lawn in front is much admired. Doubtless it has given a healthful direction to the good taste exhibited in the laying out of private grounds in many places. Rarely do we find now a house or public building so thickly surrounded with shade trees as to be constantly damp, as was too often the case formerly.

Parish Committee, George Dwight, L. J. Powers, John R. Smith. Clerk, James A. Rumrill. Treasurer, George E. Frink. Sexton, William A. Norris.

This church was organized with 19 members, at the Water Shops, and struggled for years in poverty and feebleness, without pastor or house of worship. Its first church edifice, built in 1821, was near the Water Shops; the second, built ten years later, was at the corner of Maple and Mulberry streets; the present house was completed in 1847. The church has since greatly prospered, and a colony of 143 members was dismissed from it in 1864 to form the State Street Baptist church.

Rev. George Barton Ide, D. D., settled over this church in October, 1852, died suddenly, April 16, 1872, at the age of 68. Only Rev. Dr. Buckingham was older in the pastoral relation here, and Rev. A. K. Potter is now second. Dr. Ide was the son of a Baptist elder, and born at Coventry, Vt. He graduated at Middlebury College; was pastor successively of a church at Brandon, Vt., for a short time; of the First Baptist, at Albany, four years; of the Federal Street Church, at Boston, two years; and of the First Baptist, at Philadelphia, fourteen years, whence he came to Springfield. He found here a church that was poor, divided, and but little esteemed. Under his preaching it has been always harmonious; a total of 803 have been added to its membership, of whom 406 were by baptism, being an average of more than 20 per annum; and while the church has become a power in the community, wide-reaching in its influence up and down the Connecticut Valley, its minister in his work as preacher and pastor, and as a citizen, has been respected and beloved by all who knew him, almost as much outside his denomination as within it. His eloquent and tender address to Springfield soldiers, who were leaving for the war, will never be forgotten by the hearers. Several books from his pen have been published. What he knew about gardening, pear and grape culture, the Hampden county farmers were always ready to hear, and gave him many premiums for deserved success. For keen repartee, sharp hits, and good nature, he ranked with Rev. Dr. Osgood. His life was a part of the history of Springfield, and its people give him their tribute of praise.

The membership of the First Baptist is 458; average congregation, 450; total contributions the past year, $12,796, of which $7,047 was for benevolent purposes; of the latter sum considerable aid was given to poor churches in the county. This church was formerly on Pynchon street. Though a colony went out from it to form the Central Methodist Church, the old house was too small for the congregation. The present edifice was completed two years ago, and cost, including the land, $73,000. For light, ventilation, solidity of construction, and appropriate adaptation to its various uses, it is a model. It is of the "romanesque" style of architecture, rectangular in shape, and is 122 feet long and 74 wide. The tower projecting 6 feet in front, is 22 feet square, and rises in that form 100 feet, and the spire above the tower is 85 feet to the top of the gilt cross, making a total height of 185 feet from the sidewalk. In the basement is a vestibule extending the whole width of the church; a vestry, 68 by 70 feet, and 15 feet high; a juvenile Sunday-school room, 30 by 24 feet, opening into the vestry by mammoth sliding-doors; on one side of the latter, a ladies' room, with kitchen below, and on the other side, a gentlemen's room,—all beautifully carpeted and furnished. The audience-room is reached by two broad flights of stairs, and is 96 by 70 feet clear on the floor, exclusive of ample space for the large organ and choir, and the speaker's platform, and the walls are 24 feet high, the extreme hight of the room being 36 feet. A free reading-room and pleasant place for resort for leisure hours is provided. Instruction in writing is given to classes without charge, and the directors desire to promote the social and religious welfare of the young women of the city. Religious meetings every Tuesday, at 3 1-2 and 7 3-4 P. M. The wives and daughters of many of our best citizens give aid, counsel and personal co-operation in the work of this Association. By its advantages, a large number, who have not been long in the city, become acquainted, and enjoy and improve their evenings as otherwise they might not be able to do.

Organized as a separate society in 1871. President, Mrs. Rufus Chase; vice-president, Mrs. Daniel Gay; secretary, Mrs. A. M. Butterfield; chairman of committee on boarding-houses and employment, Mrs. J. F. Chapman, 70 Pynchon street; and Committee on Visiting the Sick, Mrs. Homer Merriam, 367 State street. Membership, 160.

Young Men's Christian Association.

Rooms in Hurlbut's block, 344 Main street; open every week-day and evening, and free to all. The reading-room is the best in the city for public use, and supplied with various leading daily and weekly papers, secular and religious and popular magazines.

Strangers and young people, and especially those who have just come to the city to reside, are cordially invited to come in. Any service that can be rendered by the committees on boarding-houses and employment, visiting the sick, etc., will be cheerfully done.

Evening entertainments are occasionally held at the rooms, usually on alternate Wednesday evenings. The desire for social enjoyment so natural in the young, has the hearty sympathy of the officers, and efforts to gratify it will be made in various ways. Prayer meetings are held at the rooms, Saturday evenings at 8 P. M., and Sunday evenings at 6 P. M., each for one hour.

Young people coming to the city find that their subsequent standing and success are determined largely at the outset, by their choice of good associates, care to improve leisure moments, and kind and helpful efforts for others in need.

During the past year the Association removed to its present location, and the popular interest in its success has been most encouraging. The course of lectures at the City Hall, arranged by one of the officers, Henry W. Hallett, in connection with the City Library Association, gave good satisfaction to the public and resulted in a handsome increase of the funds of both Associations. The central and pleasant rooms are much frequented. Social gatherings here have "full houses," often. Some of our best singers and glee clubs add the charm of their presence and voices; and there are select readings and other exercises of a lively or humorous character. The best talent of the city is enlisted for the public debates. On two evenings, Hon. D. L. Harris entertained the young people here with an account of the Pacific Railroad, as he saw it, showing by large diagrams its route, elevations and depressions, odd features, cost and profits, and relating amusing experiences in California, with instructive observations upon the people and the marvels of nature there.

Many letters deposited in the post-office, from which, by mistake, stamps were ommitted, have been forwarded by the Association. Frequent responses come back in thankful acknowledgment, stating that valuable enclosures and notices of sickness or death have thus been sent. Lay preaching at various points of the city is well attended; out-door services are held in warm weather.

Parents and pastors in other places do well to acquaint themselves with this institution, and communicate with its officers when sons and daughters and friends come here to reside. Organized in 1864. Most of the churches of the city are represented in the board of directors. President, O. D. Morse; vice-presidents, H. W. Hallett, C. C. Burdett; secretary, George F. Farmer; treasurer, H. S. Bushnell; chairman of committee on boarding-houses and employment, Andrew Titus, 438 Main street. There are nearly 300 members.

Homes for Friendless Women and Children.

Organized in 1865. Officers—President, Mrs. Charles Merriam; vice-presidents, Mrs. Wm. Rice, Mrs. S. Merrick; clerk, Mrs. N. A. Leonard; treasurer, Mrs. Heman Smith; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. R. Hixon; auditor, Chas. Marsh; advisory committee, Rev. S. G. Buckingham, D. D., George Walker, D. H. Brigham, O. W. Wilcox, Charles Marsh, A. L. Soule. Applications for admission received at the Home, 62 Union street, on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons, from 3 to 5 P. M.

The Home for Women is at 62 Union street, where applications may be made to the matron or visiting committee. The Children's Home is on Buckingham street, and applications for it should be addressed to the Corresponding Secretary. The two Homes combine the functions of an orphans' asylum, infants' home, hospital, reformatory and temporary asylum for the destitute. Its beneficiaries are from the whole county. During the year ending October 1, 1871, 42 women and young girls, and 55 children were received and cared for; 11 were infants with their mothers, who remained but a short time. A little Swiss child of fifteen months, who had nearly died from neglect, while its mother was very sick with fever in a poor tenement house, was brought here, and carefully nursed back to health, and restored to the mother on her recovery. A girl of fifteen, sent here from the almshouse at Monson several years ago, was taught good habits and how to maintain herself, obtained a good place in a family elsewhere, and lately has been found and taken home with joy by her father and brother, who had previously lost all trace of her. Quite young children, left without parents, or driven from home by cruelty or neglect, through intemperance, here find shelter.

The new building for the Children's Home was completed last year, at a cost of about $16,000, and is a substantial edifice of brick, with stone facings and mansard roof. It has all modern appliances for comfort and convenience, and a fine healthy location.

The Public Schools.

Superintendent of Schools — E. A. Hubbard. Office, City Hall. Office hours, 12 M. to 1 P. M. of each school day; Saturdays, 10 to 11 A. M.

"Our Educational Outlook," in a recent "Scribner," was not from "Brightwood," the Springfield home of its editor. Here the schools are in a most prosperous condition. They indicate and promote largely the growth of the city. People are induced by their superior excellence to come here and settle. Though our rate of taxation is very much lower than in the other cities and larger towns of the State. $80,000 was expended here for public schools last year, and 105 teachers were employed. The number in school the past winter was 93 per cent of all the children reported by the assessors; and the small remainder is accounted for as taught by private teachers. For a time, every boot-black went to school; now that there is not a suitable place for him at the almshouse, if a truant, he does not fear to stay away, and so a very few of this class may be outside, but even they will soon be cared for at the new poor-farm buildings, no doubt. The public draughting-school, where none are admitted under the age of fifteen, was over-crowded the past winter, and included many of the best mechanics and some old men. Learning is sought and prized by all. One "colored gentleman" puts upon his sign that his "white-washing" is "done scientifically."

Most of the schools are arranged in groups as follows: North Main street group, including all north of the B. & A. Railroad; Elm street group, including all between Worthington and York streets, and between the river and Chestnut and School streets, Worthington street group, including the streets near the depot, and from Chestnut street to the Armory, and from the B. & A. Railroad to State street; Armory Hill group, including the Fifth Ward; Central street group, including Pine street and the Chapel; and Indian Orchard group. Except on Worthington street, each of the large school-houses is occupied by a grammar school, divided into several grades as the different attainments of the pupils require. Around this, in the smaller old school-houses, are the primary schools of the group. On Worthington and Central streets, the grammar school and primaries are in one building.

Children beginning in the primary school, in three years are prepared for the grammar school; here they study five years, rising through successive grades to the High School, where, in four years more, they are fitted for college, or the seminary, and so well fitted that Yale, Harvard and the other colleges readily admit pupils from here, and sometimes into advanced classes.

There are two ungraded schools, and to these the truant officers, by kind and judicious efforts, gather many children who would otherwise lose the advantages of education.

The truant school is at the almshouse. Juvenile offenders, who might grow up a burden to society and a "curse to themselves," are sent here. The teacher has given head, heart and hands to the instruction of these boys, and the change wrought in their manners and morals is most gratifying.

The training school on Union street, west of Main, is found of great advantage to inexperienced teachers, who receive a smaller salary, and are here qualified to fill responsible positions as vacancies occur.

The High School, too large for its building, still occupies a part of the City Hall. Scientific subjects receive more attention in this school than formerly. Apparatus valued at $1,500 is provided for instruction in philosophy and chemistry; and lectures, connected with these branches, are given every Thursday afternoon, and part of the year also on Tuesday afternoons, which are open to the public. The new building, now in course of erection for this school, is described on a preceding page.

Six large school-houses have been built since 1865, and their aggregate cost is a little over $250,000. They are furnished with all the modern improvements, pleasantly situated and attractive. From the new one on Central street, may be seen some of the finest views in the city. Flowers grow within and without; the yards are well kept, and surrounded with neat fences. Of the good effect of these kindly influences upon the children, even the birds testify, for in the gate-post of one school-yard they have built their nest and reared their young unmolested.

Below will be found the location of the schools, number of pupils in May last, and names and salaries of teachers:

The new Library building ranks among our finest public edifices, and cost, with the land, about $100,000. The Museum occupies the first floor, and above is the Library proper. Light is admitted through sky-lights in the roof, 50 feet long, and through windows in the alcoves, as well. The building is warmed by two hot-air furnaces, and well ventilated.

The two reservoirs in use are east of Armory street; one is near it, north of Morgan road, and holds forty million gallons; the other is more distant from the street, and near the Boston & Albany Railroad, and holds fifteen million gallons. The supply held out here through all the past two years, though it failed in neighboring cities. Three thousand and fifty families and about six hundred stores, hotels and manufacturing establishments patronize the Aqueduct Company, and their daily consumption is over a million gallons. Where much water is taken, meters are introduced, and tend to prevent waste. Many people have wells, or draw by pipes of their own from excellent springs on the hill-sides. There are several ponds and brooks and two rivers near the thickly settled portion of the city; and the five sprinkling carts need not fear to lay the dust liberally on our streets, when they can so easily obtain water from these sources. A new storage reservoir, west of Armory street and north of Morgan road, has been completed by the Aqueduct Company. Its capacity is more than double that of the others combined. Thus far, the Company have laid twenty-eight miles of pipe, all of which is cement-lined sheet iron; three miles of it was put in the past year; and the expenditures have amounted to $210,000.

United States Armory.

Commanding Officer—James G. Benton, Brevet Colonel Ordnance Corps; Assistants to Commanding Officer, Captain J. R. Edie, and Second Lieutenant Henry Metcalf, of the Ordnance Corps; Ordnance Storekeeper and Paymaster, Major E. Ingersoll.

The arsenal, offices, store-houses and principal shops are on nearly the highest ground in Springfield, on State street, and command a fine view of the Connecticut River and the surrounding country. The heavier operations required are carried on at the Water Shops, on Mill River Probably in no other part of the world has the manufacture of muskets been carried to such perfection. The breech-loader, model of 1868, which is made here, was the combined result of the inventions and improvements applied by the government, and the highest skill displayed by private enterprise. One thousand of these guns, one thousand of the Remington breech-loading rifle-muskets, and one thousand of the Sharps' breech-loading rifle-muskets, made here, are being tested in the field and at the government stations, to determine which is the best. Three hundred carbines each, of the three kinds mentioned, were also made, and are being tried in the same way. That the choice is limited to these, is the decision of the commission of military officers who made careful examination. Twenty-two thousand Remington breech-loading rifles for the United States navy were completed last year. Ten thousand muskets and three hundred carbines, on the Ward Burton plan, were made and put into the field for trial. Ten thousand Springfield breech-loading rifle-muskets, model of 1870, were also made, embodying all the latest improvements in that arm; and it is but fair to say, that, all points considered, it is probably the best breech-loading arm in the world. A great variety of repairing has been done here, and a very large number of parts produced and sent to replace unserviceable ones in arms in the field. Valuable machines were also constructed. Scientific experiments are made here with projectiles, fire-arms, gun material, and other matter connected with the manufacture of arms. To results thus obtained by the government, private manufacturers are largely indebted, and would not themselves, in many cases, undertake the processes by which important facts have been demonstrated that materially benefit them. Making a liberal allowance for all items of expenditure, labor, superintendence, depreciation, condemned work, interest, etc., guns were manufactured here through the war at a cost of only $11.70 each, while similar arms from contractors cost $20 each, besides charges for proving and inspection.

The chief arsenal of the government is here, and there are now stored in it about 300,000 fire-arms of various kinds for the military service.

The ingenious machinery, the perfect system in every department, and the taste and beauty displayed on the grounds, are the wonder and admiration of visitors from all parts of the world. The successive steps of progress in gun-making may be seen in the specimens of arms made here at different periods, and kept in the museum. Various muskets of other countries are also shown, and there are curious relics from the battle-fields of the War of the Rebellion.

Most of the men work by the piece. The eight-hour law prevails, the working hours being from 7 A. M. to 4 P. M. in summer, and 7 1-2 A. M. to 4 1-2 P. M. in winter. During the war about 3,000 men were employed here, turning out about 1,000 muskets daily, but requiring some portion of the works to be run nights. Nearly 700 men were at work here the past spring, but the force is now reduced.

Springfield Cemetery Association.

Organized in 1841. President, Geo. Bliss; clerk and treasurer, F. H. Harris; superintendent, J. C. Shamp; trustees, George Bliss, Henry Fuller, A. D. Briggs, Edmund Freeman, Justin Sackett, George Dwight, William H. Smith, W. C. Sturtevant, John L. King. The Cemetery grounds cover an extent of about forty acres, and from their opening in June, 1841, to January, 1872, 7,631 interments have been made in them, 290 of that number being from January, 1871, to January, 1872.

A New Catholic Cemetery has been laid out on the Boston road, two miles east of the City Hall.

Valuation for 1872.

The Assessors make the present valuation of the city over thirty millions of dollars—an increase of nearly three millions the past year.

The Alms-house and the Poor.

The Alms-house and City Farm are on North street, above Bancroft, and are under the care of Mr. and Mrs. James Coffran. From 30 to 40 poor people have been supported here the past year. Temporary out-door relief, in food, fuel, etc., was given to about 750 persons, by the Overseers of the Poor. The Truant School is also at the Alms-house, with Sarah C. Alford as teacher.

The poor-farm of 12 acres, offered for sale a few years ago for $300 per acre, will now bring $100,000, it is believed. The city have therefore voted to buy the Alden Warner farm for the use of the poor, on the Boston road. It contains 18 acres good land, and can be had for $8,000.

Travelers who have not means to pay for bed and board, stop over night at the police station, in the basement of the City Hall. Over 1,600 persons have availed themselves of the city's hospitality here during the year. Women and children, as well as men, most of them worthy people, thus found shelter. There is not much chance to sleep, except in chairs; but the room is large, and a good fire is provided all night when it is cold, and numbers do not increase the cost. In the morning, the "guests" have a few crackers, and go on their way, grateful. The increase of patronage here the past year is due to the tramps. These, however, can only tarry for a night. If they appear the following evening, unless detained by a storm, they are taken as vagrants to the county boarding-house on State street, where they can stay awhile and learn a useful trade.

River Navigation.

Steamer Mayflower runs up and down the river, carrying excursion parties from Springfield whenever desired. She is a fast-sailing vessel of fifteen tons burden, accommodating 100 passengers. J. D. Gallup of Agawam, captain; Lewis Adams, pilot.

Steamer Clyde, G. R. Otto, commander, has her wharf at the foot of Howard street, is a rapid sailer, and takes out pleasure parties of ten or twelve persons. She also does business as a tow-boat.

The steam vessel which makes regular trips to Agawam and back, is owned in part by the city, and has been caulked and repaired, provided with life-preservers, hose, etc., and is pronounced "seaworthy" by the government inspector. Timid people take this route in preference to the toll-bridge, though passage by the latter across the railroad is more safe and speedy since Mr. Stearns explained the law which applies here.

Some appropriations have been made by Congress for removing obstructions to navigation between Springfield and the Sound, and the engineer employed in this work has made fair progress, and is confident of success.

A Pest-house has been fitted up by the city, near Water Shop pond, for cases of small-pox, whenever such occur.

Jail and House of Correction.

Located on State street, opposite St. Michael's Church. Jailor, A. M. Bradley, salary, $1,500; assistant jailor, F. A. Norway, salary, $900; chaplain, Rev. William N. Rice, salary, $300. There are usually about 90 prisoners here, a few of whom are females. Of 624 committed to the house of correction last year, 484 were sent there for intemperance. Those under sentence make slippers, turning out about 1,000 pairs daily. Their labor is contracted for by L. C. Smith, who employs four persons here, besides prisoners. Services on the Sabbath, with preaching at 9 A. M.; Sunday-school, conducted by the chaplain, at 4 P. M. Prisoners are eager to read, but the few books in the library are worn out and old.

Milk.

There are some forty milk peddlers in Springfield. By a new law of the State, they register their names with the inspector, A. B. Manley, at the City Hall, have a license, and allow him to examine the article sold. Purchasers also bring milk to be tested, and are invited to do so. No charge is made them, and it is not hurt for use. The tests are ample, and chemical analysis may also be made. The results are recorded in a book, which any one may read.

Kerosene.

Retailers of this oil are required by a city ordinance to obtain a license to deal in it, and no kerosene can be sold by them, unless it is first inspected, and does not explode at 110 degrees fire heat. Small lots have been detected as dangerous and shipped back, and accidents from such cause seem to have ceased.

Swine.

For the sake of health and cleanliness, swine are forbidden by city ordinance to be kept, under penalties, in the thickly settled portions of Springfield, from Carew and John streets nearly to Mill River, and from the Connecticut River easterly to the Cemetery, Byers and Cass streets.

Dogs.

One thousand and eighty dogs were licensed in Springfield last year. From the sum thus raised, $1,996 was given the City Library, besides what was paid for sheep killed.

Hacks.

Every hackney carriage is required to have a license from the city the first of April each year, for which $1 is paid. The number of the license must be conspicuous on the carriage, and also posted inside, with the owner's name and the rates of fare. The latter are fixed by the law at 40 cents for one adult, 75 cents for two, and 25 cents for each additional person; children between the ages of four and twelve are carried for half fare. These rates are for limits extending south to Mill River, east to Walnut street, and north to City Farm beyond North street, and are for day service. Beyond these, only reasonable additional charges are allowed to be made.

About 60 hacks and 120 trucks and express wagons are licensed yearly by the city at $1 each.

Places Worthy of Notice from Strangers.

THE CITY HALL, fronting Court Square, erected at an expense of $100,000, ranks among the finest buildings in New England. It has an audience room capable of holding 3,000 persons, and accommodations for all city officers, Police Court, a portion of the High School, etc.

THE CEMETERY, in the south-easterly part of the city, has its main entrance from Maple street, near its junction with Central street, with an entrance for carriages also from Pine street, and for people on foot from Mulberry and from Union streets. Although within this city, it is so secluded its existence would hardly be suspected by a stranger. On a portion of it, the forest trees still grow, and "Nature vies with Art in producing one of the most charming combinations of hill and valley, stream and fountain, trees and flowers, slopes and terraces, and winding foot-paths and open carriage-ways, imaginable." There are forty acres in the grounds, and the south part has recently been laid out in lots, and a number of beautiful and appropriate memorials of the dead erected.

THE UNITED STATES ARMORY, on State street, is described on page 68. Principal entrance to the grounds, corner State and Byers street. Passes are required for admission to the arsenal or shops, and may be obtained at the office. Visitors see here the most perfect works for gun-making, great stores of arms, many mementoes of war, (including marks of the fight here in the Shays rebellion,) and views of the surrounding country from the top of the arsenal.

HAMPDEN PARK, north of B. & A. R. R., between the Connecticut River and Fulton street; having one entrance from Clinton street, and another from Plainfield street. Inaugurated September 29, 1857. Purchased and improved by the Hampden County Agricultural Society at a cost of $31,600, for an exhibition ground, and leased by the Hampden Park Association.

Great Freshets.

Highest rise of water in Connecticut River—1801, twenty-one feet six inches; 1843, April 18, twenty feet eight inches; 1854, May 1, twenty-three feet six inches; 1856, August 21, eighteen feet nine inches, (Camp Thompson inundated); 1859, March 20, twenty feet six inches; 1862, April 20, twenty-two feet two inches, (Hampden Park flooded); 1865, March 18, eighteen feet ten inches; 1869, April 21, twenty-one feet (Hampden Park flooded); October 4, 1869, twenty-one feet six inches (Hampden Park flooded).

Indian Orchard.

This thriving village is in the north-east part of Springfield, on the Chicopee River. It is one mile north of Indian Orchard station on the Boston and Albany Railroad, and seven miles from the City Hall. The ride there may be pleasantly made from the Massasoit House in twenty minutes, any week-day morning, all the way by steam and horse cars, for thirty cents. A stage-ride a mile farther brings one to Jenksville in Ludlow, which is "set on a hill," while below is Chicopee River, the boundary line of Springfield on that side.

Indian Orchard (see map in front of DIRECTORY,) is laid out with straight, wide streets, crossing each other at right angles, and contains over 1,500 inhabitants. There are two dry-goods, one clothing, six grocery and two apothecary stores; a boot and shoe manufactory and several small shops in the same line, a cigar manufactory and store, a wheelwright shop, post-office, two hotels, Library Hall, two cotton mills, one omnibus line, and a horse railroad, reservoir, gas works, etc. A number of new buildings have been erected the past year; and a large hotel, a French church costing some $15,000, a bakery and market, and various dwelling-houses, are to be built this season. A large amount of granite curbing will also be put in on the streets, 3,500 feet of it being for the corporation. The railroad from Athol to Springfield is to run through Indian Orchard, and will be completed this year, if possible.

Indian Orchard mills and much of the land in this vicinity are owned by J. C. Howe & Co. of Boston; George O. Hovey is President of the corporation, and Edward Atkinson, Treasurer, both gentlemen belonging to Boston; Charles J. Goodwin is Superintendent, and A. S. Packard, Paymaster. The mills contain 860 looms and 41,000 spindles, and turn out from 150,000 to 160,000 yards per week of shirtings, denims and sheetings; two kinds of the latter are made, one of standard quality, the other a lighter fabric. Two million three hundred thousand pounds of middling cotton are consumed annually, and the monthly payroll amounts to about $17,000. A new wheel is being put in which will add 125 horse-power, and a new building is to be fitted up as a warp-mill. A wise and liberal policy distinguishes the corporation in its dealings with employes, and gives character and permanence to the community. The operatives agree to refrain from intoxicating liquors and profanity, observe the Sabbath, and pay their debts. The corporation have erected Library Hall for the use of the employes, with a reading-room, library, and hall that will seat some 300. The library contains about 2,000 volumes of popular interest and permanent value, and new books are constantly added. The reading-room is supplied during the winter with the Springfield daily papers, Boston Daily Advertiser, eight or ten weekly papers, and fifteen monthly periodicals. The employes very generally avail themselves of these advantages. A better class of people are drawn here by them, and induced to settle. Evidence of this is seen in the schools, the houses, yards, lawns and flower-gardens. Formerly the children in the mills failed to attend school, although the law required it. A half-time school was therefore established, and these children induced to go. They work in the mills in the forenoon, attend school till 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and work the remainder of the day, earning, if by the piece, nearly as much as before. The success of this new feature of educational work, brings many letters of inquiry from abroad, some of which are from legislators in other states, who propose to embody it in their laws.

Springfield City Directory.

The Names of all members of a firm, as far as ascertained, are in smaller type under the name of the firm, and are also inserted in their place in the alphabetical list.

New Numbers have been applied on the streets, by the city, at the rate of one number for every twenty feet, exclusive of cross streets, and oftener when necessary, so that every separate store, office, dwelling, etc., or entrance up stairs from the street, has its distinct number assigned it. Where no numbers appear with some of the following names, because not on residences, it is hoped householders will soon have them put on. The necessary information may be had of the City Engineer, the cost of figures is small, and the convenience and time saved would be great.

Even Numbers are on the west or north sides of all the streets.

Numbers Begin at Carew street, for Main and North Main streets; at Cypress street, for Fulton; at the Boston & Albany Railroad, for Water street; at State street, for streets running into it; for other streets running north and south, numbers begin at the principal street from which they run. On streets running from Connecticut River or Hartford & New Haven Railroad across Main street, the numbers begin at the river or railroad, as on Bridge, Worthington, State and Union; and "East" and "West" are omitted from the names of these streets. On streets running from Main, but not crossing it, the numbers begin at Main. Other streets running east and west, not specified above, are numbered from the principal street out of which they run.

Court and William streets are numbered from Main towards the river, and do not have "West" prefixed. East Court and East William are distinct streets, and hence are numbered from Main, and "East" is not dropped from their names. For explanation of Abbreviations, see page 108.
